PLAN SUBMITTED TO EXPERTS

Conference Continues Work on Far East Problems

WASHINGTON—(By Associated Press)—Admiral Baron Kato on behalf of the Japanese delegation to the Washington conference today asked and received from the heads of the delegations of the nine participating powers a delay of several days to allow examination of the Far Eastern proposals submitted yesterday by China.

WASHINGTON—(By Associated Press)—The general principles presented by China for solution of the Far Eastern problems afforded at least a definite working basis for the Washington conference as the delegations of the nine participating nations met again today as a committee, to work out plans of procedure for consideration of these problems.

Known to have the moral support of the United States, these principles, at least so far as they stand for actual practice of the open door policy and for the abolishment of "spheres of influence" in the Far East, also are declared on the highest authority to have the support of Great Britain.

WILL GO TO EXPERTS
By the same authority it was said the conference would proceed to consideration of the Far Eastern questions at once on the basis of the proposals submitted by the Chinese delegates, the various principles set out in the plan to be referred to experts who will examine them and submit their reports to the full conference at the earliest practicable moment.

Japan would heartily subscribe to many of the points presented by China, it was stated by spokesmen for her delegation, but other points raised doubtful questions which might be answered only after mature consideration. Chief among the latter they regarded the proposal that the powers conclude no treaties affecting China without consulting her, the Japanese considering that this might directly affect the Anglo-Japanese alliance.

FACT NOT INVOLVED
It was declared to be the British view, however, that the alliance was not directly involved in the Chinese proposal, although it may later be drawn into the discussions. As directly affecting their individual national interests, the Japanese also appear to object to the proposal.

The Chinese proposal was favorably commented upon by both the French and Italian delegations as forming a suitable basis for discussion of the whole Far Eastern question, although lacking definiteness exact as to principle.

FRENCH POSITION
WASHINGTON—(By Associated Press)—The French attitude in a general way toward the Far Eastern proposals of China was set forth after a two hour conference, by Premier Briand and other members of the delegation as follows:

First—France desires earnestly to aid China in realizing her aspirations, territorial, political and commercial.

Second—France would give up Kouang Tchouan, which she leased from China in 1898, provided Great Britain gave up Wei Wei and Japan Shantung, leased by the Germans at the same time, and the Port Arthur peninsula.

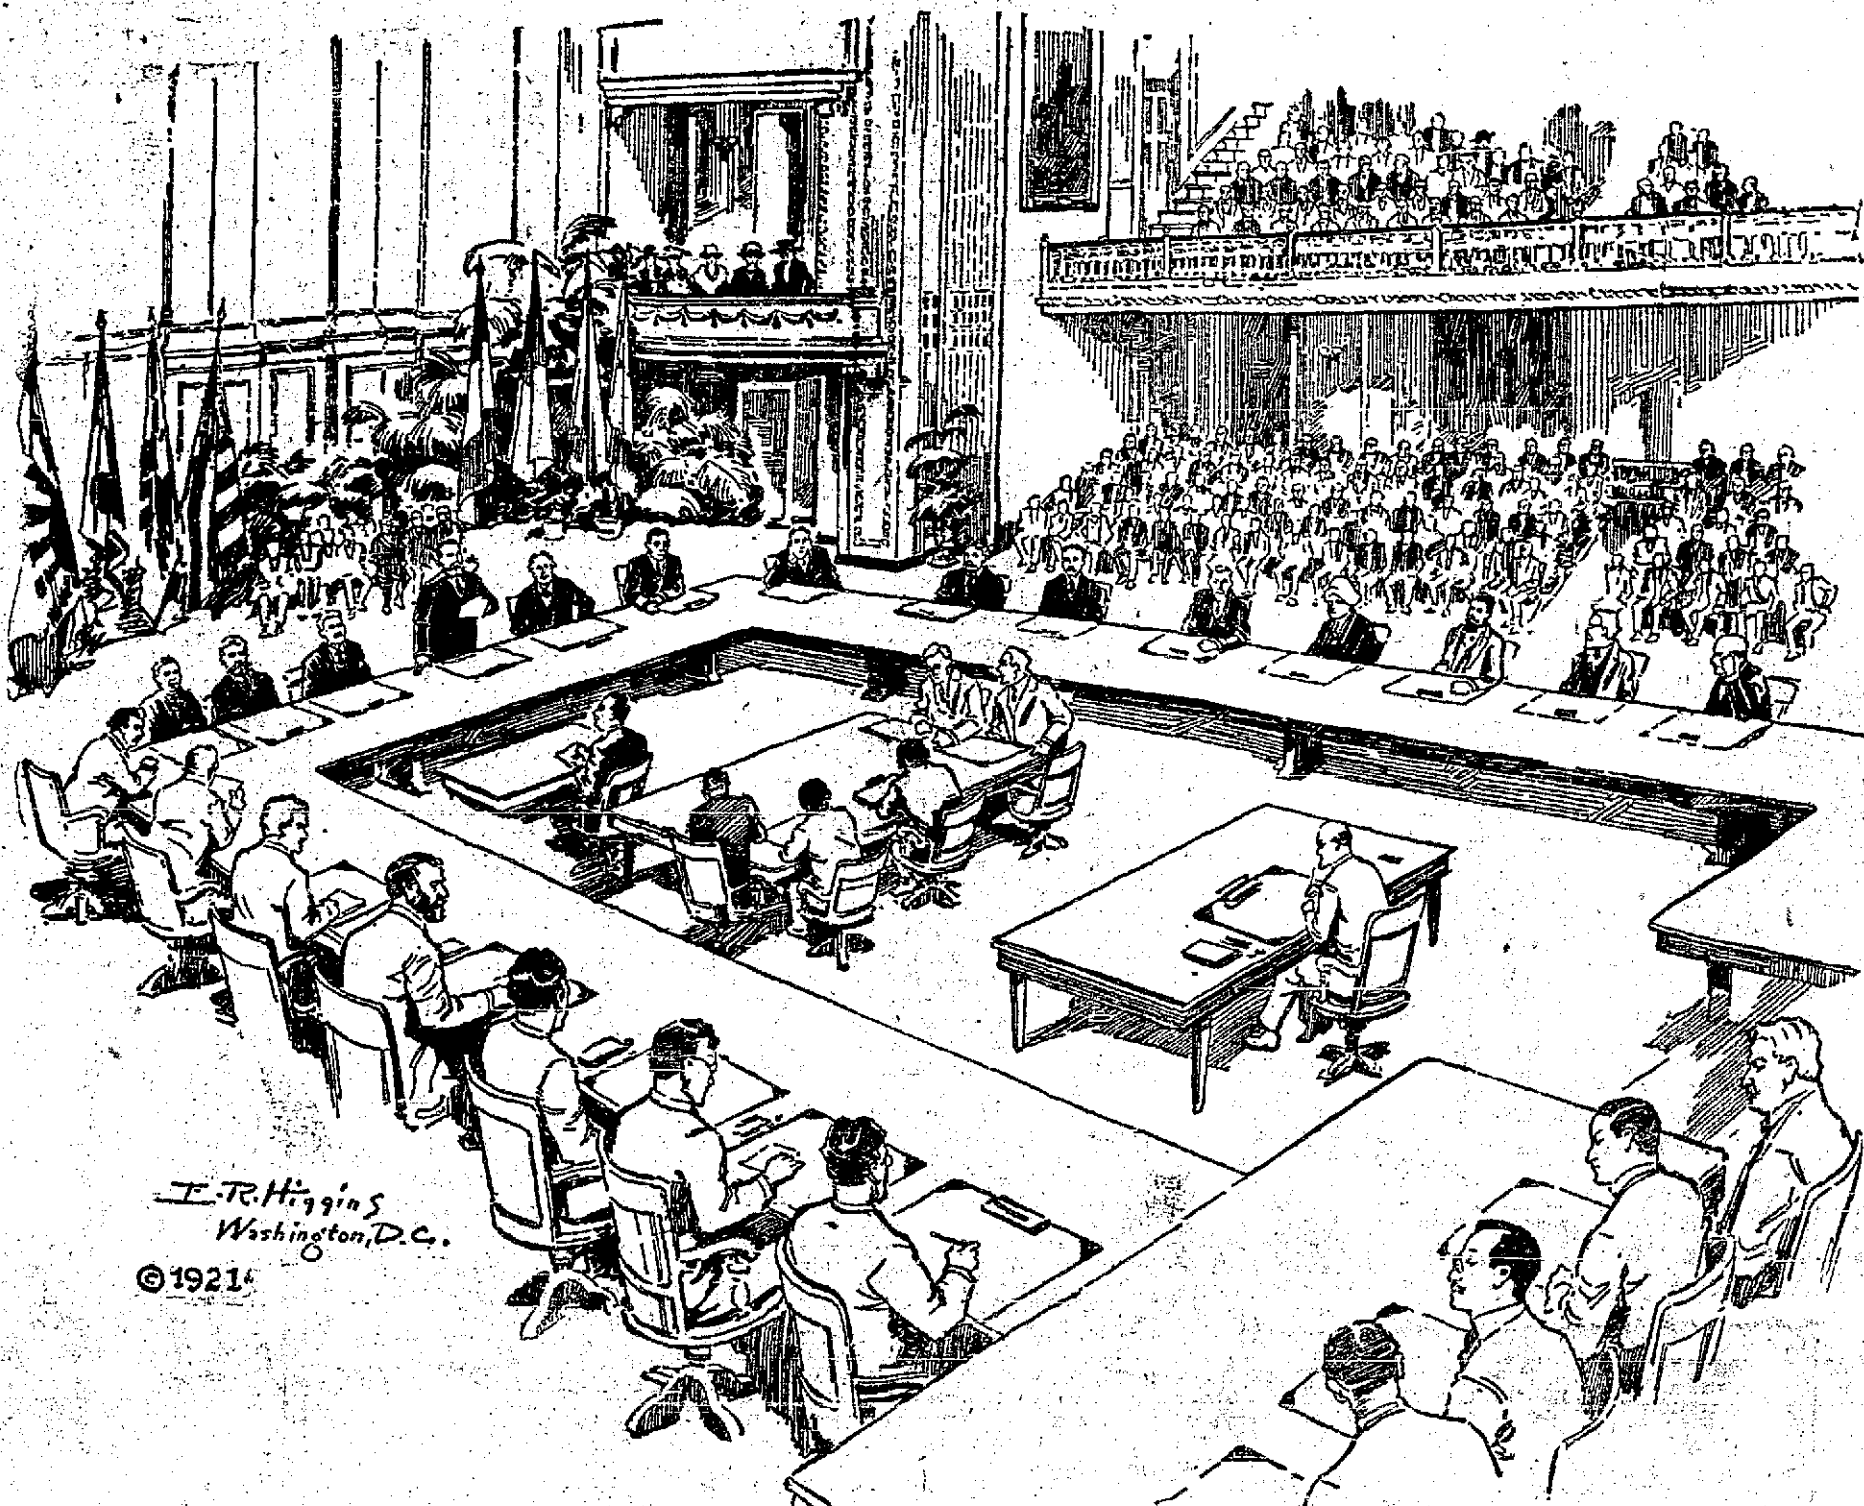

Third—France would not be unwilling to surrender her extra-territorial privileges were other powers willing to do the same. France gave up these in Japan in 1906 and was in negotiation with Turkey to give them up there in 1914 when the war came. However, the French feel that extra-territoriality should be maintained until it is clear that the Chinese republic can give adequate security and justice to foreigners.

Fourth—The French colony of Indo-China did not belong to China, but to Annam. Consequently Indo-China, the great French colony with 25,000,000 inhabitants, does not come in the question according to the French point of view. It how-ever, some question should be raised as to the rectification of the nine hundred mile Chinese frontier, the French government would be willing to discuss the boundary.

Fifth—France approaches the discussions of Far Eastern questions in sympathy with Japan's need for expansion and for raw material. The French delegation desires under all circumstances to take a conciliatory and pacific role.

Sixth—France is for open dealing of the powers with China and against any secret negotiations.

27 INJURED WHEN TRAINS COLLIDE

Steel Coaches Demolished in Chicago Elevated Wreck

CHICAGO—(By Associated Press)—Twenty-five persons were injured, two of them probably fatally, this morning when two five-car elevated trains, loop-bound from the West Side, were wrecked in a rear end collision at the Crawford-ave station on the Oak Park line.

Three steel coaches were demolished and several victims pinned beneath the wreckage. Firemen with acetylene torches cut thru the twisted metal to reach them.

CRASH IN FOG
The first train was leaving the Crawford-ave station when a speeding five-car, all steel express dashed out of the fog and crashed into the rear of the car ahead.

Many suffered minor cuts and bruises, but were able to proceed on other trains after receiving first aid. The more seriously injured were removed by firemen to a nearby restaurant, where napkins were used for emergency bandages while waiting the arrival of physicians and ambulances.

BURIED UNDER DEBRIS
Patrick McGuire, a guard on the first train, was pinned under the wreckage for more than an hour, until firemen obtained torches and cut thru the mass of twisted steel plates and beams. He may die. William Griffin, who was riding on the platform with McGuire suffered a crushed leg and also may die.

Officials of the elevated lines said, after an investigation, that the motion of the express failed to see the first train because of the dense fog and mist.

AKRON — (By Associated Press)—Grant Ringer, 33, was shot and seriously wounded last night by his wife, Nellie Ringer, 30, who found him with another woman in a room of a local hotel, according to police.

Mrs. Ringer then turned the revolver upon herself. Struggling to her side, the husband took the weapon from her before she could fire. Both collapsed upon the floor after the woman was disarmed.

YANK HANGINGS IN FRANCE DENIED

Army Officer Declares Senator Watson's Charges Untrue

OMAHA, Neb. — (By Associated Press)—Charges of unwarranted hangings of American soldiers overseas, recently made in the United States senate by Senator Watson of Georgia, were denied here today, by Colonel William O. Gilbert, who had charge of death, dismissal and penitentiary cases at A. E. F., headquarters at Chaumont, France.

"There is not one word of truth in the tales of these executions," Colonel Gilbert was quoted as saying.

"If I remember rightly there were about ten men executed in France," adding that the death penalty was not inflicted except for murder and criminal assault.

"If these brutal hangings of men without trial had occurred," he said, "rumors of them would have reached our office, even though we would have no official record of such things."

"Not one man was executed for military offenses. There was no man more careful to see that a soldier was not executed," except on proof positive of his guilt than General Pershing. He took extreme care and personally went over every case, turning down a great many of them."

CHICAGO — John Hebel, a bank messenger for the Great Northern Trust Company, was kidnapped by five men near the postoffice, in the heart of the loop today, and taken to Lincoln park, where a sack of mail addressed to the trust company was taken from him.

Bank officials were unable to state the amount of loot although they said no valuable consignments were expected. The robbers threw a blanket over the head of the bank messenger, taking advantage of a heavy fog that hung over the city.

LOOKED HIM OVER
The first I heard of him, was when we were living in Washington and he wrote me a letter, telling me how handsome he was. I thought if he was handsome, I would look him over. He called at the house and I saw him several times.

"I didn't think much of him as a lover, he acted like a 9 o'clock fellow in one of the all-night towns. I've got witnesses to prove that he proposed."

Miss Niebel declared she was 18 years old, while Herrick admitted he was 34. "I think it was nearer 44," she added. Then she withdrew.

CONGRESSMAN IS SUED BY GIRL

$50,000 for Breach of Promise Demanded of M. Herrick

NEW YORK—(By United Press)—"He told me he was 100 per cent pure and 98 per cent handsome," Miss Anne Elizabeth Niebel, former Flashes beauty, poked her head between the curtains of her room here today and had that to say regarding Congressman M. A. Herrick.

She said he had boasted of his beauty, asked her to marry him, and then failed to do it. She said this was the reason she has filed preliminary papers in a $50,000 breach of promise suit.

"I don't know about all he said—but I'm sure he wasn't 98 per cent handsome," Miss Niebel declared. "He didn't hold my hand and whisper sweet nothings in my ear. He didn't even get down on one knee when he proposed. He just said: 'Kid, I like you and you like me. We'll get married.'"

"I didn't think much of the idea, but he told me he had piles and piles of money and lots of oil wells out in Oklahoma, so I planned to marry him. I called my mother and he said it over to her. He said: 'The kid likes me—and I am going to marry her.' So we figured it was all fixed."

PARTY WIPED OUT IN AUTO CRASH

Machine Crashes Thru Bridge at Johnstown, Pa.

DROPS 50 FEET TO RAILROAD

Car Overturns in Fall, Pinning Passengers Beneath

JOHNSTOWN, Pa. — (By Associated Press)—Six persons were killed here early this morning when the automobile in which they were riding crashed thru the guard rails of the Woodvale bridge spanning the Pennsylvania railroad cut, and fell to the tracks 50 feet below, according to reports received at the office of Deputy Coroner R. H. Yost.

The car overturned as it fell, pinning the passengers beneath it, killing some of them instantly.

Details of the accident were meagre but an unofficial list of the dead included one woman and five men.

CAR BEYOND CONTROL
Alice Horner, John and Arthur McKinley, brothers; Edgar Funk, John McGuire and Fred Stotte, Jr. all said to have been residents of Johnstown.

According to Deputy Coroner Yost's reports members of the party had been visiting at the home of Mrs. Helen Costlow near the place of the accident and were returning to their homes when the automobile got beyond control on a curved approach to the bridge and sped thru the rails. When aid arrived all the passengers were dead, the report stated.

Stotte, was said, was at the wheel and police expressed the belief that as he recently came to Johnstown he may have been unfamiliar with the road or may have been confused by the darkness and a heavy downpour of rain thru which he was driving.

MAY OUST WOMAN
Removal of Three From Arbuckle Jury Threatened

SAN FRANCISCO — (By United Press)—Fireworks were expected to begin today in Roscoe (Fatt) Arbuckle's trial for alleged manslaughter. Just what brand they would be was entirely uncertain, but before court convened the day held these possibilities:

That the sudden exercise of peremptory challenges might deplete the jury box, now containing a dozen temporarily passed jurors and plunge the court into another day of tedious questioning of veniremen.

That lawyers might decide it was "no cas. for women to hear," and remove the three women now in the jury box.

That evidence might be started with the state following any one of a half dozen lines of evidence.

NEW PLANT HERE IN THREE WEEKS

Pressed Metal Company From Waukesha, Wis.

HALF OF STOCK SUBSCRIBED

Industry to Employ Good Force
at Startoff

Lima's newest industry, the Pressed Metal Manufacturing company, Waukesha, Wis., will remove its plant to this city within three weeks, provided the remainder of the $20,000 preferred stock offered for sale by the company here, is quickly taken up, it was announced by W. P. Ferris, vice-president of the company, in Lima, Thursday.

Approximately $9,000 of the stock has been subscribed since a meeting with the Lima Chamber of Commerce. The drive to dispose of the remainder was begun Thursday afternoon, after Ferris had held conferences with J. Kennard Johnson, manager of the chamber of commerce, and Fred E. Williams, member of the special committee named by the chamber of commerce to arrange for disposal of the $20,000 stock.

GOOD FORCE OF EMPLOYEES

Between 25 and 30 persons, male and female, will be employed when the concern opens its doors here, it was announced by Ferris, Thursday. Expansion of the company depends largely upon factory space available, he asserted. Approximately 60,000 Ford shock absorbers, the main item turned out by the Pressed Metal Manufacturing company, are contracted for in 1922. Automobile accessories and steel mouse traps are other products manufactured by the concern.

"Lima is the first city in Ohio we have visited that has not held forth some manner of graft as inducement to obtain our plant," Ferris said Thursday. "We believe this to be a wide-awake, industrial city and the logical place for our company to locate. It is imperative, however, that the remainder of the $20,000 preferred stock offered here for the purpose of enabling us to expand sales and carrying on new advertising, be taken," Ferris declared.

Altho no definite decision has been made as to location, it is understood the new company will locate in and occupy the entire second floor of the East Iron Machine company plant, E. Market.

PLAN TO MOVE QUICKLY

Ferris returned to Waukesha Thursday afternoon, leaving the assurance his concern will initiate immediate steps to remove its plant to Lima.

The $11,500 preferred stock remaining to be sold is expected by local business men interested in the proposition, to be taken up quickly.

It was thru efforts of the Lima Chamber of Commerce that the industrial advantages of the city were sold to the Pressed Metal Manufacturing company, thereby securing another thriving industry for this city.

SPEED OVERHEAD IS PLANNED

Railroad Heads Meet Lima Men
on Metcalf-st Project

An imposing body of New York Central Railroad officials: L. A. Larsen, secretary-treasurer; Lima Locomotive Works; Eugene Lippincott, county prosecutor; H. E. Garling, city solicitor; R. G. Dunn, president of the chamber of commerce; J. Kennard Johnson, manager of the chamber of commerce, and H. L. Breckenridge, city commissioner, met at a noon luncheon at the Lima Club Thursday in an effort to elicit from the railroad officials some satisfaction regarding the proposed Metcalf-st. overhead at the L. E. & W. crossing.

Thru efforts of Larsen, L. S. Emory, general manager of the L. E. & W.; J. K. Connor, chief engineer; J. B. Cochran, general solicitor and A. D. Peters, superintendent, were called together in Lima Thursday and asked to meet the county and city legal representatives, a representative of the new charter commission and heads of the chamber of commerce, in order to come to some agreement for planning the overhead crossing at Metcalf-st and the L. E. & W. tracks.

It has been several months since the Metcalf-st. overhead bridge street committee has shown activity in obtaining information from L. E. & W. officials regarding the project. The crossing is dangerous to traffic, it is maintained.

Larsen, thru his close connection with railway officials, was instrumental in bringing heads of the E. & W. system to Lima for the meeting Thursday. Hopes were entertained by Lima representatives that conclusive plans for the overhead would be made at the luncheon meeting.

COLD IS COMING TO DISPEL RAIN

Method of Procedure Commented on By Bryan

WASHINGTON — Only two sessions so far and yet they prove the incalculable benefit of open public discussion.

Suppose Secretary Hughes had made his proposal at a secret council, and then waited for a confidential reply from other nations—how different the situation would be.

The delegates would be involved in a mass of details and in confusion of pleas, replies, rejoinders and sur-rejoinders, etc.

As it is the United States took the world into its confidence and the world gave an affirmative answer that has jarred secret diplomacy off its throne.

BRITISH SITUATION

Mr. Balfour set forth Great Britain's answer as to her need of a navy and it is well the world should know that view. Never before has Great Britain been able to lay her arguments before so many people at one time.

If war is to continue, a large navy is necessary to the very existence of the British empire. The word "large" is a relative term, when all navies were small, a little navy might be large enough for Great Britain.

When several nations build big navies, the biggest navy of all becomes an unbearable burden and Great Britain may well desire a substitution of a different policy.

JAPAN'S ANSWER

The open meeting also gave Japan a chance to deny before the world the false accusations that have been made against her by those who are not friendly.

When has Japan been able to lay her case before so many people? To obtain such a hearing is worth to her all the expenses her attendance may incur. She answers her accusers with the assertion that she has never insisted upon a navy equal to Great Britain or the United States, that she has never contemplated a navy for offensive purposes and that she heartily concurs in the proposal that sweeping reductions be made.

Here in a forum that speaks to the world, these questions are going to be thought out and brought out. It is impossible that the results shall be otherwise than good. Frankness triumphed in the beginning and will gather momentum as the conference progresses. The benefits already assured compel the conviction that a permanent tribunal—one that can be convened at any time for the consideration of any international problem—is the supreme need of the world. Even on questions which cannot be submitted to arbitration and where the conclusions must rest upon their merits rather than upon any binding agreement, publicity will create a public opinion that will in the end control. Reason will thus be substituted for force and a new spirit will regulate international relations.

Man and Woman Taken by Police
at 330 N. Central-av

Two arrests were made in connection with alleged sale of liquor at 330 N. Central-av Thursday, when police, led by Chief O. J. Roush, raided an eating house and soft drink saloon at that address, and seized a considerable quantity of "white mule."

The pair taken into custody are: Stella Gardner, 30, proprietress of the place.

James Brokey, 32, a resident of Kenton.

Both were booked at the station on a charge of selling intoxicants. Three other habitués of the place were taken to the station, but were released, for want of evidence.

Brokey was arraigned before Judge Emmett J. Jackson and pleaded not guilty. He was sent back to jail in lieu of $500 bond and will be given a preliminary hearing at 1:30 p. m. Thursday. The Gardner woman was not arraigned.

Brokey may be also charged with being one of the go-betweens in distribution of liquor from Lima to Kenton and other towns, police stated.

Evidence against the place was obtained by the police with the assistance of "Colonel" Brown.

The man was given a $5 bill, marked so that it might be identified. All other money and property was taken from him.

Within a half hour he slid into the station and tipped Chief Roush on to the location of the place in S. N. Central-av.

A pint of liquor resembling gin, but which proved to be "mule," had been purchased for $3. The remainder of the $5 bill and the liquor was turned over to the police.

Chief Roush, Officers Dick Watkins and Joseph Reed hurried to the soft drink place in the police car. Two men were arrested, but they proved to be the wrong ones. Another trip was made and Brokey and the proprietress brought in.

FIGHT FOR SERVICE ON LIMA-DEFIANCE LINE IS RENEWED

Legal representatives of towns along the Lima-Defiance division of the L. C. & E. traction line met in the chamber of commerce auditorium at 2:30 Thursday afternoon, to further lay plans intended to compel the traction company to maintain service on the Defiance division.

Walter Jackson, attorney and an authority in corporation scraps similar to the one expected to result when citizens file protest with the state public utilities commission against abandonment of service, appeared before the meeting with recommendations applicable for organizing an array of county and city legal talent to represent citizens living along the line.

The prosecutors from Defiance and Ottawa were asked to be present at the meeting, as were Eugene Lippincott, Allen-co prosecutor, and H. E. Garling, city solicitor.

The case is scheduled for hearing before the utilities commission in Columbus December 14.

NAVY YARDS NOT TO BE SCRAPPED

Will be Needed to Repair the Retained Fleet

U. S. PROPOSAL EXPLAINED

British Suggestion Not Understood by Americans

WASHINGTON — (By Associated Press) — The British suggestion that each of the naval powers retain at least one naval building yard capable of turning out one ship a year does not appear to be understood by American naval officers particularly familiar with construction. There was no suggestion in the American limitation proposals that any yards be scrapped and so far as navy yard facilities in this country are concerned all will be needed, it is said, in the maintenance and repair of the retained fleet.

WON'T SCRAP MACHINERY

At present the United States has several navy yards equipped to build capital ships. It has not been contemplated here that it would be necessary under the reduction program to scrap the equipment of these shops and building docks. Some of the machinery would not be needed, of course, for repair work and would lie idle, but the bulk of the government plants in each case would be constantly in use in keeping up the eighteen battleships to be retained by the United States, it was said. These ships, the newest in the navy, are in many cases now approaching the point where regular overhaul programs are necessary to keep them in first-class shape, and with the scrapping of the older ships that have been keeping the yards busy up to this time, officials feel that a sound repair program as to first class craft can be adopted for the first time.

If the British suggestion, a wholly informal one as yet, so far as known, has to do with providing means for insuring the advancement of naval engineering knowledge during the proposed ten year holiday, there is no doubt that it will receive much approval among American naval officers. That aspect of the holiday proposal already has appealed to technical experts of the United States. They have assumed this would be covered in the final form of the holiday agreement.

BETTER CONDITION

One thing that many officers hope will be possible under the limitation program is that the navy can be kept in better shape at all times than was possible with the larger fleets and extensive work on new programs. This has to do, it is said, more with preparation of plans for vessels of all types than with the actual condition of the ships afloat. Those are always in about the state of readiness it would be possible to keep them, but with technical personnel released by the reduction of the navy, from other tasks, it is hoped that plans for all sorts of auxiliaries which would be needed in war can be kept up on a thoroughly matured scale and these vessels not be, as was the case in 1917-18, the product of hurried planning. The question involved is one of keeping a sufficient technical force at work during the naval holiday to round out and revise the plans constantly.

Cincinnati Playhouse is Robbed
by Armed Bandits

EMPLOYEES BOUND TO SEATS

News in Brief Gathered From Ohio Cities

CINCINNATI — (By Associated Press) — Two armed bandits, one of them masked, this morning at 6:45 held up Charles Wuest, night watchman, and Henry Hymans, elevator man at the Orpheum theatre, bound them to seats in the auditorium, tied cloths around their heads and then blew the safe in the office of the theatre. They obtained $1,000 and escaped.

Wuest and Hymans finally managed to work themselves loose from their bonds and give the alarm. Two men, believed to be the same that blew the safe at the Orpheum, later appeared at the Boulevard theatre. They seized and gagged Ella Devine, janitress. While one intimidated her with a pistol, the other hammered a knob from the safe, opened the doors and was about to blow the inner doors when the motion picture operator arrived and frightened the robbers away. All they obtained there was a few dollars which they grabbed from a change box.

BEEHATH EXPECTED TO ENTER RACE FOR GOVERNOR

COLUMBUS — Belief that R. R. Beehath of Harrison-co, speaker of the house of representatives, may be a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor in event Governor Davis becomes a candidate for United States senator, was expressed in political quarters here today.

Harry D. Silver, representative from Preble-co, in an announcement late yesterday, said "when the contingency arises, the friends of Mr. Beehath will insist upon his being a candidate."

It is generally understood that the "contingency" is an announcement from Governor Davis that he will not be a candidate for re-election.

THREE OTHERS ARE HURT

Ford Car Wrecked in Collision
With Ambulance

Four persons were injured, two of whom were taken to the hospital when the Williams & Davis ambulance crashed into a Ford touring car at Washington and High-sts. Wednesday night.

The Ford car was wrecked. It is the property of A. G. Krock, 406 W. Wayne-st. Those injured in the accident include:

FOUR INJURED

Mrs. C. F. Jones, 520 Haller-st, taken to St. Rita's hospital. Sustained bruises and lacerations.

Mrs. A. G. Krock, 406 W. Wayne-st, taken to St. Rita's hospital. Fracture of the hip.

A. G. Krock, owner of the car, sustained an injured leg, and Harry Hildreth, 126 1-2 W. Market-st, embalmer who was riding beside the ambulance driver was hurled thru the windshield, both were able to go to their homes.

Robert Clutter, driver, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Shurtliff, 518 Haller-st, were shaken up by the impact, but not hurt.

The ambulance was coming from the west in High-st, returning from a call at St. Rita's hospital. Krock, south bound, was turning east into High-st, from Washington-st. Seated in his machine were his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Shurtliff and Mrs. C. F. Jones.

Krock slowed down for the turn, he said and looked both ways for approaching cars. He did not see the ambulance and Clutter the driver, did not see the Ford.

FORD CAR WRECKED

The ambulance slammed the Ford broadsides, wrecking it.

Another ambulance was hurried to the scene and Mrs. Krock placed in it. Mrs. Jones was placed in the Williams & Davis ambulance. Both were taken to St. Rita's, two blocks west.

Hildreth and Mrs. Jones both are holders of Lima News accident policies and will be compensated for injuries received.

CHIEFS OF MINE UNION OUSTED

A. M. Howat and His Lieutenants
Permanently Expelled

MARTIAL LAW IN COLORADO

Soldiers Take Charge as Coal
Diggers Strike

PITTSBURG, Kansas — (By Associated Press) — Alexander M. Howat, for twenty years a figure in labor controversies in the Kansas coal fields, today stood automatically and permanently expelled from the United Mine Workers of America, with reinstatement possible only thru action by the executive board of the international union. Expelled with him were those officials of his administration who recently were deposed on order of John L. Lewis, president of the international union and who have kept the suspended administration alive several weeks in defiance to the international.

Howat and August Dorchy, the deposed vice president, are in jail at Columbus, Kansas, serving sentences of six months each for violating the state industrial court law by calling strikes in an industry regarded as essential to the public welfare.

Their expulsion was announced last night by Van A. Bittner, Pittsburgh, Pa., special representative of the international union, sent here to take charge of the Kansas district affairs. Bittner's announcement also said he would proceed immediately to suspend from membership approximately 4,000 Kansas miners who failed to obey an order by the international to go back to work.

STRIKERS FED
The strike was called by the men September 30, in protest against the incarceration of Howat and Dorchy. The men suspended may obtain reinstatement by paying fees of ten dollars each to the union treasury, as provided by the organization's constitution.

About $50,000 worth of provisions are to arrive in district 14 for the striking miners. It was announced today by William Orr, traveling auditor for the Central States Wholesale Cooperative Association, which has been furnishing supplies and extending credit to the strikers. The cooperative grocery firm is controlled entirely by mine workers of Illinois.

Orr said Frank Farrington, president of the Illinois miners, had authorized the immediate shipment of the provisions.

MARTIAL LAW DECLARED
DENVER—(By Associated Press)—Martial law is in effect in Huertano today.

State rangers, acting under instructions from Colonel Patrick J. Hamrock, "adjutant general took charge of law enforcement" just a few hours prior to the time set by union leaders for a strike today in thirteen mines of the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company, employing 3,500 men. Reduction of thirty per cent in wages, announced yesterday and effective today, was the signal for closing the mines by a walkout, John P. McLennan, president of district 15, United Mine Workers of America, announced.

McLennan declared that the other thirteen mines would be closed by a sympathetic strike within a few days. He said the mines are 90 per cent union.

The martial law proclamation was issued by Governor Shoup after an appeal had been received from Sheriff Harry Capps at Walsenburg, saying the situation was beyond his control.

No disturbance was reported as a result of the developments yesterday, although it was pay day for the miners.

Prohibition of the sale of arms and ammunition at Walsenburg yesterday revealed, according to dispatches, that Walsenburg merchants had already sold out their entire stocks of arms and ammunition.

ARMAMENT ENVOYS NOT SUPPLIED WITH DRINKS

WASHINGTON — The long-heralded "flood" of liquor, advertised to flow in with the foreign arms delegations, is missing. Careful searching for the cases shows them to be only mirages in the Volsteadian desert.

The Japanese are about the only group dispensing a brand of hospitality such as one used to know in the days before prohibition.

In fact, one of their social functions of the past few days is still town talk. Guests at this affair admitted, almost proudly, the following day the possession of head-aches such as one knew in 1918 and previously. They whispered about the wonderful beverage which accompanied their reception.

Washington is just as wet as ever—in fact, one of the easiest cities in the country in which to obtain hard bootleg whiskey and good Scotch. But the arms delegates, if they are supplied with drinks, are keeping it to themselves.

LIGHTNING BOLT STUNS WOMAN

Flash in Hazell Home Burns Pipe,
Fires Gas

FIXTURE SHORT - CIRCUTED

First Call for Department in Four Days

Lightning which struck the home of J. P. Hazell, 817 E. Vine-st. at 4 p. m. Wednesday, set fire to the house and caused $150 damage. Mrs. Hazell, seated in the dining room with a neighbor, was stunned by the bolt, but soon recovered.

The bolt seems to have struck the electric wires leading into the house. Following the strand, the juice entered the building, and ended with a brilliant pyrotechnical display, when it short circuited an electric dome in the dining room. Mrs. Hazell was seated almost directly under the dome.

GAS IS IGNITED

Insulation on the wire was burned off by the lightning. A gas pipe near the wires, running to the second floor, was charged and by some freak action a hole, as large as a match, was burned thru the pipe.

The volume of gas released added to the fire.

When the light dome in the dining room was short circuited, the flash set fire to lath in the ceiling. Flames quickly spread upward thru the second floor to the attic.

FIRE IN FOUR DAYS

Fire trucks from three stations answered the alarm. By use of chemicals and tearing away plaster with axes, the center of the blaze was reached. One line of hose was used.

The damage, Hazell states, will amount to $150 on both the house and the furnishings. Both are protected by insurance.

The fire is the first for the department to handle since November 13.

DELEGATES FEAR CHINA SMASH

Threatened Collapse, Intervention Worry Conferees

MONI LACKING AT PEKING

Minist of Finance May Resign His Post

By Wm. PHILIP SIMMS
Special Writer for The Lima News

WASHINGTON — The complete collapse of China and some form of foreign intervention are twin terrors which delegates to the armistice conference here now fear they may be called upon to face at any time.

The government at Peking is unable to meet its foreign obligations while payment of interest due on national treasury bond coupons for four months in 1920, and two months of this year, have, for a second time, been postponed.

Lesser money is coming to Peking from the provinces. The virtual war lords of these provinces are not only unwilling to what they collect, but depending more from the central government.

In Peking, Minister Pan admitted to the fact that less than 10 per cent of the taxes collected in the provinces actually reaches his hands.

Minister MAY QUIT
Behind almost beyond endurance, the minister would like to resign. The money coming into the national treasury from posts, telegraphs, and railways only a drop in the bucket and the rest, wine and tobacco taxes and a dribble more.

Custo and salt taxes — the country's two greatest sources of revenue — are administered by the foreign powers at Peking and are already pledged for loans already made.

Virtual bankrupt, China is bewildered and does not know which way to turn.

President Hsu Shih-chang would quit if he could do so without losing "face." While his premier, General Chin Wai-ping, actually does resign almost weekly, and is retained in office only by force. President Hsu is desperate and does not know where he could find another prime minister to take General Chin's place.

Nation civil war continues in several districts throughout China and the famous looting of some of her 20,000 unpaid coolie troops are the incidents of the day.

President Sun Yet-sen threatens to push against Peking from the south the central government's military in the past, Marshal Changsha-in, the super-tactician of Manchuria, is now in another tangle and may attempt some kind of a coup himself.

The central China General Wu Peifu, fighting to hold off a number of provinces in rebellion against Peking.

The conference here any day may have to face dangerous developments.

In Japanese circles the "internationalism" of China if necessary by armed intervention, is again being tried. American officials oppose the idea and the suggested has but they realize China must help itself soon or grave consequences will follow.

The American idea is for the powers to agree first to respect China's sovereignty; second, to join in aid.

FACED FEELINGS DRAG SPIRITS DOWN

Cause: By Decayed Waste in Blood—Pepp-Mangan Needed

When man's feelings get into a crumbling condition and the fabric of his strength seems unstable, and he begins to feel sullen and think dark, discouraged thoughts, it is usually caused by stale blood, clogged with waste which acts like a poison on the system.

In stale, weakened blood Gude's Pepp-Mangan starts a change. It feeds the blood with iron and other elements that make blood red and full of vigor. There is immediate evidence of the restorative powers of enriched blood. Perhaps it is more noticeable in the amuck and flavor of food. Great sleep there is a sort of triumphant feeling of refreshed vigor. Great is the light of restored health.

Physicians recommend and prescribe Gude's Pepp-Mangan. It is a recognized blood builder, and it has genuine medicinal value. Sold in both liquid and tablet form.

MAJOR WARNS PUBLIC AGAINST UNAUTHORIZED CHARITY SOLICITORS

Persons other than authorized charitable bodies, churches and societies soliciting on the streets of Lima without permit from the city administration will be vigorously prosecuted, according to a statement from Mayor Burkhardt, Thursday.

"The Salvation Army generally asks for a permit to make collections on the streets for charitable purposes about this time of year," Burkhardt said, "but so far they have not requested such permit. I understand they will not do so for the Thanksgiving holiday," the mayor stated.

All persons now soliciting the streets for funds to be applied to charity have obtained no permits, according to the mayor, and are working without authority so far as the city administration is concerned. Mayor Burkhardt issued a warning to beware of these persons.

Activities of the Christian Army, now making a campaign for funds, has not been approved by permit from the mayor's office, Burkhardt said Thursday.

SECOND BOY ARRAIGNED IN IRETON AUTO THEFT

Wallace Baker, 18, of 1119 Brice-ave, was arraigned before Judge Emmett J. Jackson in criminal court Thursday, charged with auto theft. The boy is alleged to have been a companion of Louis Frisinger, 976 Rice-ave, who was bound over to the grand jury Wednesday. Baker plead not guilty.

They are believed concerned in the theft of a car belonging to J. A. Iretton, 421 S. Jamison-ave, police state. The boys drove the machine to Leipsic, where Baker persuaded a girl of his acquaintance to return with them to Lima, police assert.

Iretton recognized his car when it passed him in W. Elm-st and overhauled the two, nabbing Frisinger.

Both boys are wards of the juvenile court. One year ago they were involved in a burglary case when liquor is reported to have been stolen from Joseph Kaufman, 1003 W. High-st. The pair were tried in juvenile court and released.

MAJOR WARNS PUBLIC AGAINST UNAUTHORIZED CHARITY SOLICITORS

Persons other than authorized charitable bodies, churches and societies soliciting on the streets of Lima without permit from the city administration will be vigorously prosecuted, according to a statement from Mayor Burkhardt, Thursday.

"The Salvation Army generally asks for a permit to make collections on the streets for charitable purposes about this time of year," Burkhardt said, "but so far they have not requested such permit. I understand they will not do so for the Thanksgiving holiday," the mayor stated.

All persons now soliciting the streets for funds to be applied to charity have obtained no permits, according to the mayor, and are working without authority so far as the city administration is concerned. Mayor Burkhardt issued a warning to beware of these persons.

Activities of the Christian Army, now making a campaign for funds, has not been approved by permit from the mayor's office, Burkhardt said Thursday.

SECOND BOY ARRAIGNED IN IRETON AUTO THEFT

Wallace Baker, 18, of 1119 Brice-ave, was arraigned before Judge Emmett J. Jackson in criminal court Thursday, charged with auto theft. The boy is alleged to have been a companion of Louis Frisinger, 976 Rice-ave, who was bound over to the grand jury Wednesday. Baker plead not guilty.

They are believed concerned in the theft of a car belonging to J. A. Iretton, 421 S. Jamison-ave, police state. The boys drove the machine to Leipsic, where Baker persuaded a girl of his acquaintance to return with them to Lima, police assert.

Iretton recognized his car when it passed him in W. Elm-st and overhauled the two, nabbing Frisinger.

Both boys are wards of the juvenile court. One year ago they were involved in a burglary case when liquor is reported to have been stolen from Joseph Kaufman, 1003 W. High-st. The pair were tried in juvenile court and released.

Are You Squeezed in the Vise of Exhausted Nerve Force and Iron Starvation?

Physician Says These Twin Monsters Are Daily Dragging Thousands Into the Torture Chambers of Ill Health, Weakening Their Lives and Making Them Financial Failures.

YOU are born with just so much nerve force and your body can manufacture only so much each twenty-four hours. If you use it up faster than it is made through overwork, late hours, worry, too much excitement, grief, nervous strain or other excesses, your nerve cells become depleted of this life-giving fluid, and you are dragged into the torture chamber of neurasthenia, with all its nerve-racking, agonizing pains and anguish.

Your whole nervous system becomes "on edge," so to speak, and the least little thing upsets you. You may have an almost constant aching pain in the back of the head or neck, or an extremely disagreeable feeling of numbness in the front or back part of the head, which in some cases gets so bad that you feel almost as if your head would burst, or that the spot of local tenderness on the spine, or across the back, heart palpitation, great weakness from slight physical or mental exertion, or sleeplessness at night; and the patient often complains that his thoughts race one another through his head with lightning-like rapidity. Some break into profuse perspiration and suffer from such great debilitating weakness that they feel as if they were almost chained to the ground. Headaches and extreme nervousness are very frequent symptoms, and most persons are moody, irritable and easily depressed.

A physician formerly connected with a New York City Hospital says thousands of persons suffer from depleted nerve force and iron starvation of the blood without ever suspecting the real cause of their trouble, and that often their health, lives and success are completely undermined and wrecked before they know that it is the matter with them. In cases of nerve force exhaustion in which your nerve and brain cells are starving for want of a sufficient supply of nerve force or nervous fluid it is worse than foolish to waste your time taking more stimulating medicines, narcotics, drugs, your nerve and brain cells must have something to supply more nerve force the same as a starving person must have bread to build flesh and tissue. For centuries science has searched for a nerve food. At last a remarkable product was brought to the attention of the Paris Academy of Medicine by a celebrated French physician which contained the principal chemical constituent of active living nerve force in a form which most resembles that in the brain and nerve cells of man. This remarkable product is today contained in Nuxated Iron so that you may now easily obtain what might almost be termed artificial nerve force.

One of four million people are using Nuxated Iron, and from the remarkably beneficial results which it has produced, the manufacturers feel so certain of its surprising efficacy that they guarantee satisfaction in return for every purchase or they will refund your money. Beware of substitutes, look for the word "Nuxated" on every package. For sale by all drug stores.

BUYING A HOME

IT isn't the easiest thing on earth for one to decide in a manner entirely satisfactory to himself in picking out a place of residence, to be purchased in this city. As in all centers of population, there are many properties on the market at all times; all kinds and all sizes and all prices, to say nothing of a wide selection of locations.

Visualizing the purchase of a residence property is easy. But getting down to brass tacks about it is another thing altogether. However, it is human nature to take advantage of the opportunity that comes the nearest to approximating the desires of the intending purchaser, taking into consideration first, the location; whether the property is in a part of the city that gives promise of growth and advancement.

Then there is the condition of the structure to be considered, whether it is a sufficient size to suit one's needs, the sort of neighborhood in which it is located and a hundred and one other things that are prolific of indecision until many avenues of possibility have been exhausted. Despite the fact that Lima has been feeling the pinch of industrial depression and consequent unemployment in a great measure, there have been many sales of properties during the past year and scores of new homes and apartments have been created.

One would think, naturally, that there would be scores and hundreds of vacant homes here, but such is not the case. In fact, there are not sufficient apartments to meet the demand. The slump in sales of homes has been due, principally, to the fact that many persons have been drawing so heavily on their savings, due to idleness, that the building and loan associations are unable to grant loans on properties, such as was done in normal times; which they would gladly do again and will do when possible.

The manner in which Lima has been developing and progressing during a time of depression, augurs well for increased advancement under more favorable industrial and business conditions.

80,000 LIVES SAVED

HEALTH authorities of Lima and Allen-co. by medium of work in the homes, in the schools and hospitals, have contributed in no small measure to the great reduction that has been made in the tuberculosis death rate in the United States.

There has been a reduction of 114 for each 100,000 people, recently announced by the United States Bureau of the Census. This is equivalent to a saving of more than 800,000 lives in this country during the current year, as contrasted with the tuberculosis death rate of 15 years ago, according to a statement issued by the National Tuberculosis association.

In 1905 the death rate from tuberculosis was 192 per 100,000. By 1910 it had declined to 160, in 1915 it was 146. There was a slight increase in 1917 and 1918, but in 1919 there was a sharp drop to 126 and in 1920 to 114.

Reports received at headquarters of the National Tuberculosis association indicate that the death rate for 1921 still is decreasing and probably will be lower than 1920, which is the lowest on record.

PASSING THE BUCK

IF you want to rise to the top in your business or line of work, you must have the quality of accepting responsibility instead of evading it.

The man with a tendency to "pass the buck" usually finds that his ladder of success has only one rung.

Business will stand for almost anything from a man if he has the courage to say, "Yes, that's my fault. But I won't make the mistake again."

Such a man stands out, like a shotgun at a disarmament conference, among the millions who continually are evading responsibility—passing the blame to other people or to existing conditions.

THE evasion of responsibility seems to be an almost universal human failing.

Savages people the earth with evil spirits to blame things on.

The Chinese for thousands of years blamed their famines on the gods of rain, flood, sun and insect pests. All this was nothing but self-hypnotism—the rearing of imaginary devils on whose shoulders blame was piled. Along came American engineers. They discovered water a few feet under the surface.

"Behold!" they said to the Chinese. "The famine is your own fault. Sink shallow water wells, irrigate your fields, and famine will end."

TODAY we have civilized America, caught in the simple economic law of cause and effect, blaming imaginary nothings for existing conditions.

Experts delve into the past, find that prices and production in previous years moved up and down like waves. Hence, they reason, we are not to blame for conditions, we are just caught up and carried along by a natural process.

We have cynics, converted to the philosophy that there has to be a war in Europe every half century.

We have psychiatrists, blaming the unsettled mental and moral state of the world on intangible, imaginary things like "the cosmic urge," the "wave of social hysteria," etc.

These gentlemen attract wide followings. For the world is always on the eager lookout for anything new, on which it can shoulder the blame, instead of people accepting the truth and taking their own medicine.

This is the truth: That we are masters of our own destinies—that man is responsible for man's troubles.

PILOTS

A greenhorn can now enter the army air service observation school and become an airplane pilot after only 200 hours of actual flying.

That is what you can look forward to, in the way of necessary training, when you buy a flying liver. This does not include time spent on the ground, acquiring technical knowledge. The total course takes about five to eight months.

Very few people can afford that much time. Without it, the ambulance man would keep you, on his waiting list.

The time element involved in learning to fly will keep the airplane out of common use, until inventors perfect foolproof flying machines. That will come. Nine out of 10 autolists know next to nothing about the cars they drive, except the obvious features, when they start navigating alone.

DANGER

It takes only three penniless days to turn a well fed, well-dressed man into a tramp, says a New York investigator who "went down and out" to get his information.

How many days are you removed from the bread line?

Sit down and figure out how long it would take to reduce you to a penniless condition if your income suddenly were cut entirely off. It may give you a cold chill—and later, a savings account.

GIANT

The three ships in which Columbus sailed to discover America were considered fine vessels in their day. Yet the three combined could carry only 130 people, with provisions.

Next April, the new 56,000-ton liner Majestic will make its first trip across the Atlantic, to New York. It will carry 4100 passengers and a crew of 1000. Included in the cargo will be 6000 game birds, 80,000 bottles of ale and similar delicacies for passengers.

Compare the Majestic with Columbus' ships. Takes an instance like this to make us realize the tremendous progress man has made. Inventors are the greatest producers.

COMPLAINT CONCERNING LIGHTS

The Lima News welcomes letters from readers for publication. They should be brief and to the point. They must be signed by the writer to insure good faith. But names will not be used if the authors so desire. This newspaper, by publication of these letters, does not necessarily concur with the authors in their views and the letters do not express the paper's policy.

Editor, The Lima News

When property owners paid $225 a post for Boulevard lights, didn't they expect to get the lights or was it only the post? Last night, for instance, not thirty per cent of the lights were burning. Between Metcalf and Baxter just two lights were on and between Baxter and Jameson nine out of the fifty or more were actually burning. This seems worse than the Ohio Electric's record. What about it?

TRANSFER STATION

Editor, The Lima News

The argument against a transfer station made in your columns a few nights ago is about the most sensible I have read. Inquiry shows that less than two per cent of the passengers now make transfers. If a passenger is at the Erie station and wishes to go to S. Pine-st he does not come to the square and then transfer. Like wise, the man at the old college building on Jameson, wanting to go to S. Cole-st or W. Market-st would not come into the square and then go out. He walks across. If a transfer station is necessary in the square, why aren't little stations necessary at High and Main where more people take cars than any other place? What is needed is that all cars stop at the entrance to the square.

Common Sense Ways to get Well
—SUFFICIENT SLEEP—

Sleep, in sufficient quantity to thoroughly repair the worn-out tissues every 24 hours, is one of a prime requisites given by many authorities for long life.

The number of hours required for sleep for an adult varies from six to 10, according to the temperament, vigor, duties and mental condition of the person.

Many say that women need more sleep than men. It is aimed by some that persons who think and work fast will sleep more an hour than slow people and thus require fewer hours for rest. This is false and absurd reasoning.

Persons of active, energetic, highly nervous temperament do not build up more readily than others and by great activity of mental faculties to all they can wear out more rapidly. Hence require more sleep—not less than eight hours and sure as many as ten.

They may seem to require less because they are so much interested in whatever claims their attention, that after a moderate amount of sleep they find it easy to wide awake.

Energetic people need not be afraid of sleeping too much, persons who feel uncomfortable after sleeping may generally trace the unpleasant feelings to other causes than to too much sleep, with may have been heavy because of an unhealthy condition of the blood, want of ventilation or obstructed circulation from improper clothing or position.

No one should become fatigued by work of muscle or brain that a good night's rest will not fow and afford complete recuperation.

It is important to have several hours' sleep before midnight and to sleep during the middle of the night when the sun is all to be astir, yet it is better to take a nap during the day than to sleep enough. Indeed, a little nap before the noon meal will rest a nerve and promote digestion.

Do not sleep just after eating, as it retards digestion. Sufferers of any kind should not be worried in the hope of gaining strength. An increase of vigor can or be had from the nutritive particles in the blood, which were obtained from the food previously eaten and has been oxygenized by contact with fresh air in the lungs and by the at which sleep affords.

"MY WIFE IS ARTIFICIAL"—NATURE TO BLAME, SAYS WINONA WILCOX

BY WINONA WILCOX

MAN has learned to defeat Nature in many ways. He walks on the bottom of the sea, soars above the highest mountain peaks, lights the midnight to rival the noonday.

But in love he remains what Nature intended him to be—a dupe.

Love blinds him to the flaws in the beloved for a long time before he complains—something like this:

"My wife is artificial." This particular letter comes from a husband of a year. "I have to look twice to find the dainty sweet temperance girl I married." Then follows a column of criticism which might have been dictated by Adam. The wife is "too blame," the young husband honestly believes.

But he is wrong. Nature is at fault for the bride's sad slump.

This is a scientific fact and if it could be impressed upon the minds of lovers, it would save a considerable part of the first-year domestic misery.

The period of courtship is a period of sex manifestations. A girl in love will powder the lily and apply rouge to the rose. A man will parade his opinions and work wonders with his voice, causing it to thrill with emotion—but never to betray impatience.

Both act unconsciously. The girl is no more to blame than the moon for its rise on a misty night. The man is no more to blame than the western sky for its glory when the sun is setting. These are little bits of nature, but one may mean rain tomorrow and the other a torrid day.

Science has proved that a fuller crimson comes upon the robin's breast in the mating season. But science forgets to say that the brightness of the bird's plumage does not keep its gay promise. It lasts only half the summer.

In the same way, the unconscious sex manifestations of lovers imply twice too much. They are a kind of involuntary lying.

The bride does not stay as lovely as she seemed. Perhaps her first baby steals her freshness. The man becomes irritable. Perhaps his new responsibility for the support of a woman and a babe worry him to distraction.

One ego complains, "I deserved a better fate. The other ego murmurs, 'I've missed something. Each blames the other when neither is altogether blamable."

In this world of unconscious deceptions and clashing egos, it's a wonder that people stay married as well as they do.

The great hope is that they will stay married far better than they do when they comprehend better the little tricks by which Nature conceals her purposes, the clever schemes of Nature who science is constantly revealing to mankind.

LEISURE TO GROW WISE

We are so eager for our children to know things we knew and all we didn't know at their age that we fail to provide the leisure to grow wise that must lie behind all who think with the heart as well as with the mind.

This from the wisdom of Ann Carroll Moore, in a very enlightening little volume, "Roads to Childhood" (Dorsey), which is, in its entirety, something of a plea for more mental blowing time for children.

Ann Carroll Moore is supervisor of work with children in the New York public library.

Roads to Childhood frankly scores books crammed with moralistic, mock-heros and cheap optimism and deplores the tendency toward condescension evident in too many stories and books intended for children. It convincingly explains that children get nothing but a distaste for reading from such dull unrelatives.

Books which are little more than thinly veiled encyclopedias or geographicals are also classed with those which do nothing more than bore the childish mind.

Imaginative things, vital, glowing with color and adventure—these are the sort of books to give our boys and girls, says Miss Moore.

Incidentally, she gives some time to a discussion of the work of Hilda Conkling, the nine-year-old girl who has just issued her first book of poems.

Roads to Childhood is an illuminating book for parents, school teachers and those aspiring to write for children.

COOKING FOR TWO

THE woman who has cooked for many persons finds as much difficulty in preparing the right amount for only two as the experienced housekeeper. After mixing batter for six or even four it's amazing how little it takes to make enough and no more for two. Perhaps these rules will help you to gauge proportions.

WHITE MUFFINS
Two tablespoons butter, 1 tablespoon sugar, 1 egg, 1-2 cup milk, 1-1/2 cups flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder, 1-1/4 teaspoon salt.

Cream butter and sugar. Add egg well beaten. Mix and sift dry ingredients and add alternately with milk to first mixture. Beat well and pour into buttered and floured gem pans. Bake 25 minutes in a hot oven.

GRAHAM GEMS
One cup graham flour, 1-2 cup white flour, 1 dessertspoon sugar, 1 dessertspoon butter, 3 teaspoons baking powder, 1-4 teaspoon salt, 1 cup milk.

Mix and sift white flour, sugar, baking powder and salt. Mix with graham flour. Add gradually the milk and butter (melted.) Beat well and pour into hot buttered gem pans. Bake in a hot oven 25 minutes.

POPOVERS FOR TWO
One-half cup flour, 1-4 teaspoon salt, 1-2 cup water, 1 teaspoon butter, 1 egg.

Small iron muffin rings are best for popovers, although earthen custard cups may be used. Heat muffin rings very hot and butter well. Put all the ingredients into a mixing bowl and beat with a strong Dover beater until very smooth and full of bubbles.

Turn into the rings which must be hissing hot and bake half an hour in a hot oven. Serve at once.

GRIDDLE CAKES FOR TWO
One cup sour milk, 1-2 teaspoon soda, 1 egg, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons corn meal, flour, 1 teaspoon baking powder.

Put sour milk into mixing bowl. Stir in soda. Add egg well beaten. Add salt and corn meal and sift in 1-2 cup flour. Mix well and add more flour slowly until the batter is about as thick as heavy cream and very smooth. Add the baking powder with the last flour put into the batter.

Bake on a hot, well greased griddle.

SUSIE SMART SAYS
Dear Miss Smart:
I am an unhappy mother and hope that you can advise me properly in something which is nearly killing me. Several weeks ago my 11-year-old daughter ran away. We seemed to have misunderstandings. I was so crazy about the boys and would often go with boys of whom I did not approve. I told her to stop it, but she didn't seem to pay any attention. Now I see that I was too strict. I am sorry. Even the 11 did object to my company and think I could have been a little bit more motherly in my dealing with her. I think I know now where I could locate her. A repentant mother.

It scarcely seems possible that you, a mother, should hesitate for one moment in making an effort to find your daughter when you are certain that you know where she can be located. Send for her immediately. Do not delay one minute.

After her return work with her bringing about a better situation between you. Try to make your home a social center for your daughter and young friends that she may feel at home. Even if you don't approve of all her friends, it is far better for her to entertain them at home than to meet them elsewhere. I feel very certain that she will realize that no amount of freedom can make up for the comfort and security of a real home. It is up to you to make your home a real home and yourself the confidante of your daughter.

Dear Miss Smart:
Will you please tell me on what day of the week was November 23, 1901?
M. E. B.

Saturday.

Dear Miss Smart:
I am a bachelor 40 years old. Later I have been acquainted with a widow who has two children. She has no sons of her own and I feel very sorry for her. We both like each other very much. Do you think it would be wise for us to marry? I can give her a good home.

A BACHELOR
So after your 40 years of unhappiness, sympathy has prompted you in considering an attempt at matrimony? You must remember that liking and sympathy are not always sufficient to make certain a happy marriage. Your letter indicates that perhaps you, yourself, doubt the wisdom of this marriage. If you are very certain that you can give her a good home to justify marriage and that she returns your love, marry her. Any man who has attained your years certainly should be competent enough to make his own decision in such a matter.

SUMMONS IN DEATH ANSWERED BY WOMAN
Mrs. Bernadine Rabold, 23, wife of Homer Rabold, died at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Wehrkamp, No. 8 Oakwood Place, Wednesday at 7 p. m.

Funeral services will be held Saturday at 8:30 a. m. at St. John's Catholic church. The Rev. Father Leonard Flannigan will officiate. Interment in Gethsemani.

Now IS THE TIME TO PLAN THANKSGIVING PARTY
Thinking about a Thanksgiving party, of course!
And perhaps, if it's to be a very gay event and you have lots of time, you'll string popcorn and cranberries and make festoons in effective places.

Then you must have pumpkin chips as a part of your refreshments. Select a deeply colored pumpkin. Peel it and slice it very thin. To each pound of chips add a pound of sugar and a full of lemon juice with the grated rind. Stir well and let stand over night. Then cook slowly until tender. Skim the chips out, let them stand two days to get firm and then put them in a jar with just enough sirup to keep them moist.

Spices may be added to this if desired. It is quite like a very costly preserve.

The sandwiches should, of course, be minced turkey or chicken and hot spiced cider is a nice addition.

Calumet is made under such exacting conditions—packed in such a scientific manner, that its leavening strength and purity never vary. It retains its original strength for months after leaving the factories.

When you tip the can to get the last spoonful, you know your baking will turn out all right—the last spoonful is the same as the first. This uniform quality of is cause for its big demand. Housewives know they can depend upon the results obtained—that climatic conditions or temperature cannot deteriorate its positive leavening power.

When you buy baking powder remember these facts—that a uniform leavener means bakings that do not vary in quality—that Calumet is uniform.

A pound can of Calumet contains full 16 oz. Some baking powders come in 12 ounce instead of 16 ounce cans. Be sure you get a lb. when you want it.

she crawled upward. Then she heard Dangler speak.

"Good work, Skeeey! You've got the Sparrow nicely trussed up. I see. I told the boys to hold off a bit. It's safer to wait an hour or two yet, before moving him away from here and bumping him off."

"Two jobs instead of one!" a surly voice answered. "We might just as well have finished him."

Rhoda Gray crept on again, as a scene seemed to rise before her. It was the night that the wayward Sparrow, home from the penitentiary, on his knees, his head buried in his mother's lap had sworn that he would go straight.

Dangler spoke again: "The Sparrow there fell for the telephone when Stevie played the doctor. And old Hayden-Bond of course grants his prison-bird chauffeur's request to spend the night with his mother, who the doctor says is taken worse. Only Mr. Hayden-Bond, and the police with him, will maybe figure it a little differently when they find the same looted, and the Sparrow can't be found. And in case there's any lingering doubt in their minds, that piece of paper with the Sparrow's greasy finger-prints on it, that we copped in the garage, will set them straight."

Rhoda Gray's eyes were now on a level with the landing, and diagonally across was the open doorway of a lighted room. Two men sat at a rough, deal table—Dangler, and an ugly, pock-marked, unshaven man.

"Anything in the safe besides the shiners?" Skeeey asked.

"A few hundred dollars," Dangler replied.

"Well, let's have a look at the white ones, then," Skeeey grunted. Skeeey whistled low under his breath, as the sudden and amazed delight—and then Rhoda Gray was standing full in the open doorway, and her revolver covered the two men at the table.

"Put up your hands—both of you!" she ordered, in a low, tense voice.

Both men obeyed her.

She stepped forward and, as she picked up the necklace, she could see the Sparrow, bound and gagged.

"Why, it's the Sparrow, isn't it?" she exclaimed, and calmly tucked the necklace into her bodice.

The act seemed to rouse Dangler to the last pitch of fury.

"You've been getting wise to a whole lot lately somehow, you and that pal of yours," he flung out hoarsely. "But you'll pay for it, you devil. You'll pray yet on your bended knees for the chance to take your own life! Do you hear?"

"I hear," said Rhoda Gray coldly. She picked up the jack-knife from the table, and keeping both men covered, stepped backward to the wall. Kneeling, she reached behind her with her left hand, and cut the heavy cord that bound the Sparrow's arms; then she pushed the knife into the Sparrow's hands.

A moment more, and the Sparrow stood beside her. His thumb began to feel over the blade of the big jack-knife in a sort of horrible appraisal of its edge.

"You dirty skates!" he whispered. "You were going to bump me off, were you? Well, it's my turn now, and—his body was coiling itself in a slow, curious, almost snake-like fashion—and you'll—"

Rhoda Gray laid a hand on the Sparrow's arm.

"Not that way, Marty," she said quietly. "I wouldn't care to have anything happen to Mr. Dangler—yet. There's enough cord there for both of them. Tie them in their chairs, Marty."

As the Sparrow finished, she motioned him to the door, and then backed to the door herself, and retreated down the stairs.

Rhoda Gray led the way, and finding the street clear, hurried on rapidly. Marty, she said, "You are not out of this yet."

"I know it," he said. "I got to get those shiners back up there, and I got to get that paper they planted on me."

"Even that wouldn't clear you," she said. "The safe has been looted of money, as well; and you can't replace that."

"My God!" he faltered. He wet his lips. "That's true."

"Marty," she said quietly, "Would you trust me with what is left to be done tonight, if I tell you that I believe I can get you out of this?"

"Sure, I would!" he said simply. "Well, then, how do you get into Mr. Hayden-Bond's house at night?"

"I've got a key to the garage," he answered. "The garage is attached to the house."

"It's for the small door, of course," he explained.

"You haven't a flashlight?" she asked.

"Sure! Each car's got one with its tools under the back seat."

"And now, the library," she said. "How is it situated?"

He told her. "But ain't I going with you?"

"You're going home, Marty. Find a taxi, and send it here. Tell the chauffeur to drive me to the corner of the cross street, one block in the rear of Mr. Hayden-Bond's residence. Give the chauffeur simply street directions. Be careful that he is some one who doesn't know you, and give him this to begin with."

She thrust a banknote into the Sparrow's hand. "And remember, not a word ever—to any one! You've simply spent the night at home."

"But you," he burst out. "I—I can't let you go, and—"

"Run!" she said tensely. "Murry, Marty, hurry!"

The Sparrow's racing footsteps died away on the pavement. And then she heard the car coming. She stepped in and the taxi shot forward.

"Wait for me," she instructed, and handed the man another tip—and, with a glance about her to get her location, she hurried around the corner. No one was in sight as she stealthily entered the garage and found a flashlight. In another moment she was in the kitchen. She near—thru a swinging pantry door and into a small hall. "On the right," the Sparrow had said.

She opened the door in front of her, brushed the portiere aside and stepped thru into the room. Then the flashlight circled inquisitively about her.

Over against the wall, the mangled door of a safe stood wide open, and the floor was littered with papers and documents. Opposite the safe, and near the doorway in which she stood, was a window recessed, diagonally across from her was another door. The walls were tapestried, and hung here and there with clusters of great metal shields, and swords, and curious arms.

In a moment she quietly raised the window, and looked out. It

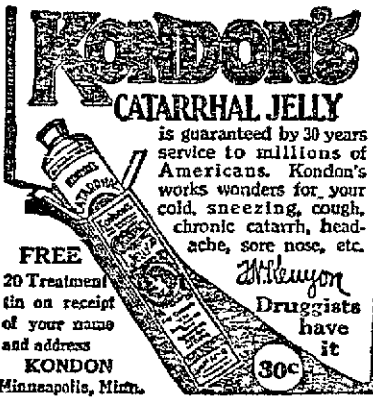

RHEUMATISM FOR YEARS LEFT HIM HELPLESS AND UNABLE TO WORK—CURED

Mr. James H. Allen, suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work.

He finally decided, after years of ceaseless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery to others who took it, with what might be called marvelous success. After years of urging he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspapers. TURNING POINT FINALLY CAME TO GALION COUPLE Claim they have been relieved of constipation, dizziness, weak kidneys and now sleep sound since taking Dreco.

"Both my wife and myself have taken Dreco and have obtained excellent results," said Mr. W. M. Bender the prosperous farmer residing on Route No. 6, Galion, Ohio.

"We seemed to be troubled pretty much the same way. Seemed like the food disagreed turning to gas and caused griping pains. Constipation was a daily annoyance and dizzy spells often attacked us. I had a dull aching pain in my back directly over my kidneys, so bad at times I could hardly stoop over to pick up anything."

"The we tried various remedies none seemed to go to the root of our troubles till one day we decided to take Dreco, and right there the turning point came for us. Together, we have taken five bottles of Dreco and it is remarkable the change that has taken place."

"The constipation is relieved, never have a dizzy spell we eat anything we crave and never have the gas-bloating or cramps and we feel full of energy and vitality. My backache is a thing of the past. Both of us never miss a chance to speak a good word for Dreco."

Dreco is being specially introduced by Hunter's Drug Stores in Lima and sold by all druggists.—Adv.

These are all known as Estate cocoa beans—the very finest of carefully cultivated crops—and are selected for their richness, aroma and flavor.

The perfection of Runkel's Cocoa is due to the manner in which these beans are blended. There are an infinite number of possible combinations and proportions—and only one of them gives that chocolate taste. And only Runkel knows that certain way.

LATEST DOPE ON SPORT, AS BILLY EVANS GETS IT AT RANDOM

BY BILLY EVANS
NEW YORK. — One must go east to get the rumors about the rest of the sporting world. While my trip to this neck of the woods was to see the Yale-Princeton game, I inhaled a lot of hot air about other sporting events.

The first thing I did was look over Babe Ruth in his vaudeville act. It would be asking to say that as an actor Babe would continue to be a star ball player. Ruth gives a very creditable performance. He seems perfectly at home on the stage. In fact, he acted much more comfortably than he did when facing the Giants' pitchers in the world series. He sings a little. John McCormack sings. He tells a few good jokes. Does a mind reading stunt that is unique, and conducts himself generally as if acting was as easy as hitting home runs.

Ruth isn't worried about what action Judge Landis takes in his case. He admits that he pulled a "bone," but feels sure it will react to the benefit of the players. Some one had to make a test case of an unfair rule, is the way he put it. Babe doesn't take kindly to some of the critics who insist he should have the electric chair because he simply violated what all adults is a bad rule. "Whatever the judge does, suits me," says Babe. "A two-weeks or even longer suspension for me in the spring wouldn't weaken the Yankees. I never go very good during the first month of the race."

Will Miller Huggins manage the Yankees again next season? Ordinarily that would be a foolish question, since Huggins did all that any manager is expected to do, win the pennant. Despite his success there is an undercurrent which is working for his removal.

"It would be establishing a rather unusual precedent to depose a manager who won a pennant for you," is the way one of the New York officials put it. That would make it seem that the management of the club would again be tendered Huggins. However, I have my doubts if he accepts it, knowing conditions that exist.

Here is a fast one that was wafted to me via Philadelphia. It concerns a deal between Cleveland and Philadelphia, which Connie Mack, of course, denies, and says it is merely a wild yarn. According to flame Rumor Catcher Perkins, third baseman Dugan and pitcher Harris are to come to the Indians in exchange for Steve O'Neill, Walter Mails, Jim Bagby and a couple of other players.

The Yankees figure to repeat in the American League, provided the pitching staff can be bolstered up a trifle. It is said the New York owners would like to get another good right hander and also a dependable southpaw. They have their eyes on the Boston Red Sox for help, and the pitchers who would be welcomed are either Bush or Jones and Pennington. Since Frazee has always been very kind to the Yankees, it would not be surprising if a deal was made for one or more of the trio.

The talked about deal between Boston and New York, which had Walter Pipp and Staffy McInnes as the trading material, is no longer being seriously considered. McInnes is such a favorite in Boston that his passing would tend to further tangle the situation in that city. And at the present writing Mr. Frazee is not regarded as the most popular man in Boston. Pipp is a mighty good first baseman, and I can't see why some one is always suggesting a trade that will take him elsewhere.

On the very best authority, I get it that a change in the ownership of the Boston American League club will take place, if Harry Frazee, the present owner, will listen to reason. Eastern capitalists have a million dollars in ready money to turn over to Mr. Frazee for his Boston franchise and holdings. Some time ago Mr. Frazee said $1,250,000 wasn't enough. Real coin is scarcer now than then, and possibly the new offer will get a hearing.

That John McGraw and Charley Comiskey are still great friends, is proven by the announcement that the Giants and White Sox will tour the south next spring. For years Comiskey has opposed the inter-league exhibition games, on the theory that it deadened the interest in the opening weeks of the championship race. The two teams will train in Texas, only thirty-five miles apart. They will stage a series thru the south, ending with Saturday and Sunday games at the Polo Grounds.

The Yankee management feels certain that the veteran Frank Baker can't go on for many more years at third. For that reason a promising third sacker would be a welcome addition to the ranks. It is said scout Bob Conery believes Pir who had a trial with Detroit, is a for another chance in the big

He had a big year on the seas 1921.

"Nothing doing on the manager job for me," is the way Babe answered the suggestion that he might lead the Yankees. Babe Huggins did not appear on the third, led to the rumor. "All I do is to keep on hitting home runs," concluded Bambino. (Copyright, 1921)

Van Buren To Play Central Hi Saturday

A muddy field and inclement weather does not stop the Central Hi football squad from putting in strenuous practice sessions for their game Saturday afternoon against the Van Buren eleven.

Although it is known that Van Buren has not a top notch team, Coach Detrick fears that his men may get over-confident and let the Hancock boys slip over a victory.

HAI GAME CANCELLED

Central should have no trouble with Van Buren. They were booked when the Forest Hi squad cancelled her game.

BILLY EVANS SAYS ROCKNE'S TEAM GAINS FAVOR

BY BILLY EVANS

NEW YORK—"Notre Dame has one of the greatest football teams I have seen in years. It is a much better team than Yale, Harvard or Princeton. I would like nothing better than to have $100,000 parlayed on Notre Dame in a series in which the western team would meet Yale, Harvard and Princeton."

That is the way Tacks Hardwick, former Harvard star, sizes up the Notre Dame team, which has taken the east by storm. During the intermission between the Yale-Princeton game, Hardwick dropped in the press box to say hello. I was sitting in the midst of a group of New York sporting writers, all football experts. Every one of them said "Amen" to Hardwick's opinion.

None of the experts in the east can offer an explanation for the Harvard-Penn State game. They all admit that Penn is much superior to Harvard, yet the Crimson scored three touchdowns against State. Harvard was not even at the top of its game at the time, as the eleven was being groomed for Princeton. It can only be explained by saying that Harvard was fortunate enough to catch Penn in a slump, as far as its defense was concerned. It is really remarkable the way Penn State has held its condition, when one considers that on successive Saturdays Bezek's eleven has not five such strong teams as Lehigh, Harvard, Georgia Tech, Carnegie Tech and the Navy.

PENN STATE IS STRONG Eastern critics are agreed that Penn State is the best team in the east. Most of them are of the opinion that Notre Dame has a slight edge on Penn. However, all agree that the two teams are not going to meet. It has been suggested that Notre Dame and Penn State play a post-season game at the Polo Grounds. The chances for such a game, however, seem rather slight.

The defeat of Princeton by Yale came as a great surprise. The Yale team was known to have great possibilities, but it was believed that the Princeton veterans would have the edge. In the Princeton lineup were seven seniors, in the Yale line-up were seven sophomores. Most of the experts figured the experience of the Princeton team would be the determining factor in the result. Yale has a great team right now and has greater possibilities. It ought to be a whole of an eleven in 1922.

DEAD ON ITS FEET The Princeton team seemed dead on its feet. Condition and youth of Yale won over experience. Coach Roper of Princeton used only 11 men against Harvard, but it proved a costly decision. Keck went into the game with a broken blood vessel in his leg. Wittmer, who has played a roving center for Princeton all season, played a stationary defense. He made only one or two tackles in the entire game, instead of being all over the field.

Gross staged a terrific ring comeback in Wapakoneta Wednesday night when he stopped Young Ellinwood, of Fort Wayne, Ind., in the fourth stanza of their eight round bout.

This Lima pug displayed more fighting calibre in this bout than he ever did before. He has discarded all fancy toe-stepping and foot work. Wednesday night he stood flat-footed and pounded into the Hoosier from the first tap of the gong.

TRAINED LEFT HOOK Gross has wonderfully improved his left hook and during the fight he landed hard punches with it which Ellinwood was unable to stand. Under the training of Earl Smith, his new manager, Gross is practically a new fighter, far better than when he last appeared in a glove encounter over a year ago.

He has more pep and enthusiasm and seems to have improved in all departments of the mitt art. Gross knocked Ellinwood down in the second round, but the Hoosier staggered and got up at the count of seven. The bell saved him from a knockout. In the third round the Hoosier was down for the count of six and in the middle of the fourth round he gave up entirely.

Mrs. Ellinwood sat in a box and several times during the fight she called to her husband to quit. She knew his defeat was inevitable.

M'HEENRY FIGHTS DRAW "Happy" McHenry, of Montpelier, Ind., fought a 10-round draw with Louie Lavell, of Anderson, Ind. These Hoosiers put up a good scrap. Lavell easily outpointed McHenry in the third round and McHenry won the eighth. The remainder of the rounds can fairly be declared even.

Young Kimple of Wapakoneta, outthought Jeff Gordon, Lima, in their six round preliminary. Neither fighter landed a blow of sufficient strength to the floor the other but Kimple slipped and fell in the fourth frame, but was back on his feet in a moment, with a smile.

Kimple got in some good blows and led the fighting in the early rounds. Gordon had some good openings and probably could have put the Wapak boy away before the third round had ended if he had taken advantage of his opportunities.

The Herring twins, of Van Wert, fought a six round draw as the curtain raiser.

DODGE IS A WHOPPER Captain Dodge of the Cornell team is one of the biggest men playing football in the east. He measures six feet six inches and weighs in the neighborhood of 220.

This Pup Has A Perfect Head

"Here are the points which in my opinion, make the perfect-headed dog: Ears—standing straight and even with the sides of the jaws. Skull—broad, flat, boxlike. Eyes—large, round, dark, soft, set wide apart, and not showing any white. Jaws—square, like the halves of a square box. Muzzle—short, broad, deep, free from wrinkles. Face—marked with an even blaze of white on forehead and across muzzle band with background of brindle.

Characteristics are intelligence, alertness, intense affection for friends and the absence of viciousness.

Perfect headed specimens are very rare. But "Billy Todd" is one of them.

"Billy Todd" of Denver, is one of thousands of other Boston terriers. Yet he's different from most of his brothers and sisters. He owns a perfectly marked head.

Both eastern and western judges have scored him. They found his head without a flaw. During the past year several eastern kennelmen have made the trip to Denver to study this wonderful-headed dog.

Maurence Greenwood of Boston recently passed judgment on "Billy Todd's" head. He has judged Boston dogs for years in eastern show rings. "I have never seen a Boston terrier quite so perfectly marked as 'Billy Todd' is about the head," says Greenwood.

PAPKE IS WORKING HARD TO DEFEAT DON BOWSHER

Johnny Papke, of Superior, Wis., middleweight and sparring partner of Johnny Karr and Bryan Downey, world's middleweight champion, is working hard to condition himself for his bout Lima Friday night against Don Bowsher, Lima pug.

Papke was substituted for Joe Price, Cleveland, who broke his wrist while training to meet Bowsher here.

He has been in Cleveland for 10 months in Jimmy Dunn's stable. Papke is a strong fellow and fought several good bouts over Cleveland and has never been defeated.

Dunn says that Papke is a better fighter than Price. We'll have to take the Cleveland manager's word for that as not much has been heard of Papke around here.

DUNN KNOWS THIS Bowsher is a tough boy and Dunn knows it. With his experience don't believe he would send a down here whom he knows could give the Lima fighter a real race, his money.

Charley Maxwell, promoter for the Lima Gym club, investigated Papke's place. Maxwell says that he is vorably impressed with the Wisconsin lad and that he should be able to put up a real scrap.

SHEVLIN NEEDS IT Tommy Shevlin is working out in Cleveland and is due to arrive here Friday morning for his fight with K. O. Jeakle, the semi-fighter. We all know that Jeakle is a fighter who wades into the thick of the fight from the first gong.

If Shevlin lays back he is liable to smack the canvas for a br sleep. He must enter the fight with both fists working like a threshing machine. The man with most powerful blows will win. It will undoubtedly be a slam bang affair as the fighters are that style.

Four preliminaries have been fought. The first fight will start at 8 o'clock.

GOTHAM LOSES STAR Watson M. Washburn, who has represented New York in tennis 15 years, is now located in Washington and will represent the Chesapeake club of that city on the tennis courts next year. Watson has accepted a government position.

LLOYD'S NEXT IS MOST PRETENTIOUS COMEDY

(BY ESTHER WAGNER.)
HAROLD Lloyd's latest comedy, "A Sailor-Made Man," is the most pretentious comedy yet produced in America.

With immense settings and hundreds of players it takes on the appearance of a foreign spectacle film. The comedy, like "The Kid," possesses continuity of action, carrying a story along with its funny business.

"The Kid" is a better comedy only because Chaplin possesses greater comic ability than Lloyd.
 Lloyd appears as a wealthy youngster in love with a winsome flapper. Her dad tells him to get a job. He joins the navy.
 Informed that his sweetheart is taking a trip around the world, he tries to resign. Any job will appreciate that situation.
 Lloyd slips on a bar of soap. His dad connects with the jaw of the champion boxer of the fleet, knocking him out. That wins the admiration of a tough old salt.

 Going ashore in India, Lloyd gets into trouble with eight natives. The tough old salt tells Lloyd to attend to four of them while he takes care of the other four.
 Lloyd retreats. The eight attack his companion. As the first four natives fall, Lloyd drags them one by one to his side of the street. When the tough has finished his eighth victim he gazes in wonder at Lloyd, peacefully sitting among his allotted victims. Then Lloyd asks, "What took you so long?"

The girl arrives at the Indian port. An exciting chase follows her kidnapping by natives. She is locked in a harem. The episodes that follow take place in the most beautiful sets that have been employed for any comedy.

Of course, Lloyd rescues the heroine. Then comes a clever fade-out.

Taylor Holmes Tonight

EVIDENTLY Lima playgoers have heard of Taylor Holmes and his new comedy-drama "Smooth As Silk," for there is a large advance sale for the performance at the Faurot tonight and every indication that the theatre will be sold out completely before the curtain rises.

Mr. Holmes has duplicated his success in Booth Tarkington's "Bunker Bean" in this new comedy-drama.

Faurot—Madge Kennedy

IT is not only a privilege but a rare distinction for an actor or actress to retire from the stage at the height of success, enter film circles, attain another wonderful triumph and then return to the stage and repeat the first success.

To Madge Kennedy this has happened. When she left the stage three years ago, it was right at the time when "The Girl in the Red Velvet" and "The Girl in the Green Velvet" were her most successful box office attractions.

At the expiration of her film contract Miss Kennedy placed herself under the management of Col. Henry W. Savage who submitted to the young star, the manuscripts of "Cornered," a four act comedy-drama by Dodson Mitchell. She was delighted with the story, and the personality of its heroine so ideally fitted Miss Kennedy, that she informed Mr. Savage it would not be necessary to look further for a play, as she considered "Cornered" far superior to the hundred or more she had read, in anticipation of her return to the speaking stage.

"Cornered" was produced at the Astor Theatre, New York, last December, and was an instantaneous success, running well into the summer before closing. In order that Miss Kennedy might make an ideal voyage. The original cast will appear in support of the star, when the attraction comes to the Faurot next Saturday afternoon and night.

MRS. S. V. GREEN

Emporia, Kansas—"Bronchitis left me in a weak, run-down condition so I was too weak and frail to do my work—I took all kinds of cough syrups and tonics but did not seem to gain. V. Green, 2 South State Street, Emporia, Kansas.

The reason Vinol is so successful in such cases is because it contains the curative tissue building elements of fresh cod's livers, (with-out oil), together with the blood making and strength creating properties of Iron and Best Peptonones which makes Vinol without a peer for overcoming frail, weak, run-down conditions. $1.00 per bottle. FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS—A CASE OF MISTAKEN IDENTITY—

SHORT SHAVINGS

Warren Snyder, of E. W. Wagner & Co., brokers, had a wild hair growing out of the back of his neck. On account of its peculiar location in respect to his paws he could not get at it to jerk it out.

Mrs. Snyder was called to do the operation.

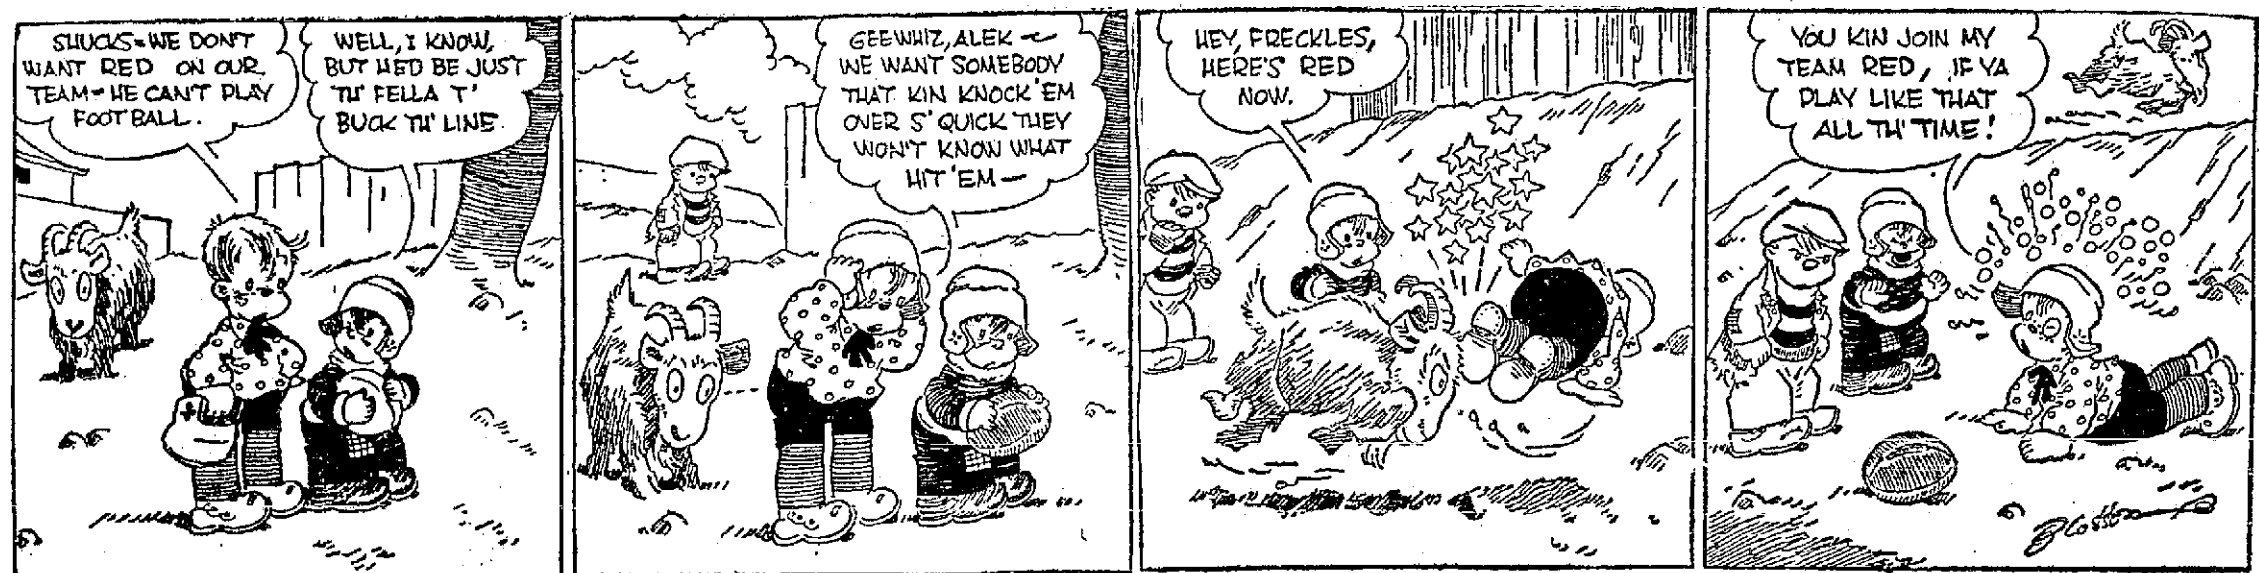

"Now," said Warren, "when you take hold of it grab it off fast. Use some speed."

Mrs. Snyder quickly took a firm hold and pulled.

She not only got the lone hair, but she pulled out a bunch.

Judge Emmett J. Jackson wins the hand-painted cupbearer as the most truthful man in Lima.

"I went hunting, Tuesday," he said, "and shot only one rabbit. I am the only man in the city who did not claim to knock off a dozen or so."

A colored man was arrested and arraigned before Judge Jackson on a charge of intoxication. Rastus admitted his guilt but said he had lost his business.

"What sort of business," asked the court suspiciously. "Well, Judge, ya 'see, she died—" "Who died?" asked the court. "Mah wife she done gone die, Judge an—"

"Well what's that got to do with you losing your business?" demanded Jackson.

"Dat's what I was jes' tryin' to say, Judge. I was running a laundry business, and she did all the wuk, an' she up an' died."

For Infants and Children
In Use For Over 30 Years
Always bears the Signature of Dr. J. C. Watson

SEE KNOWS AFTER 20 YEARS
A cold, even when it has developed a hacking cough, difficult breathing, sleepless nights, raw throat and sore lungs—even then a cold yields quickly to Foley's Honey and Tar. Mrs. Milton Waldo, Box 22, Azalia, Mich., writes: "I have used Foley's Honey and Tar for the past 20 years and find there is no other cough or croup remedy like it. You may use my name." It gets right at the seat of trouble. Children like it. Chas. J. Vorkamp, Main and McKibben Sts.—Adv.

"Gets-It"
Ends All
Corns

Just As Good For Calluses. Money Back If It Fails.

Thirty seconds after you touch the corn with this liquid corn remover the itching, stinging pain of it stops for all time.

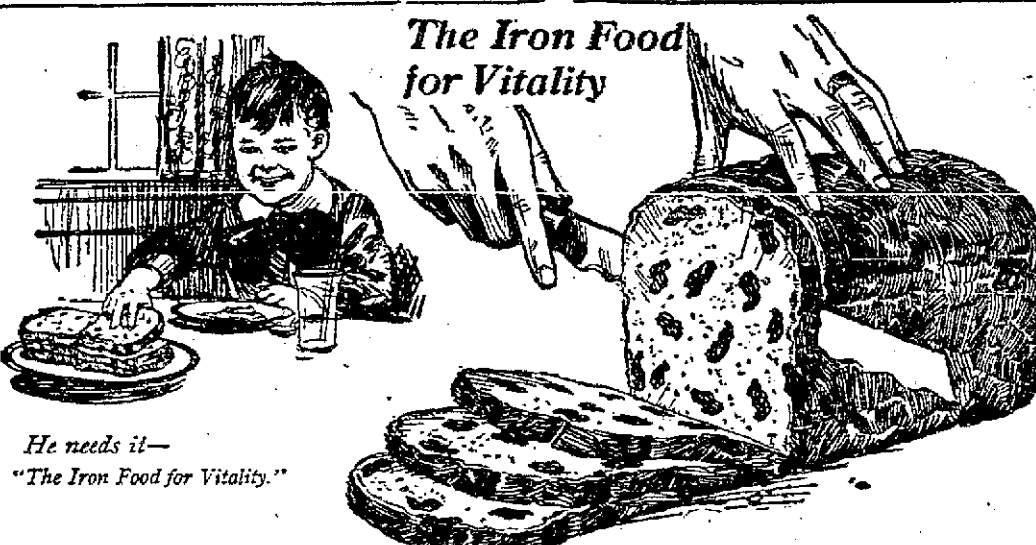

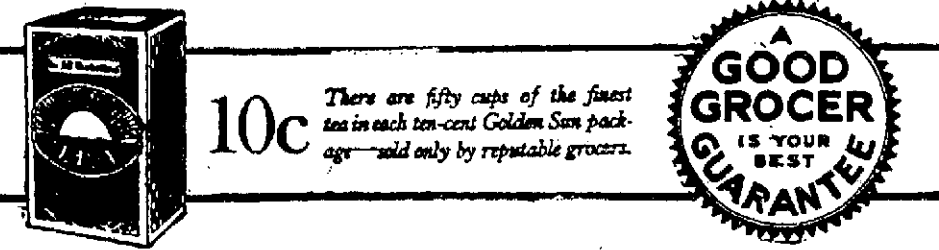

Simple As A, B, C.
No corn, hard or soft, is too old or too deeply rooted to resist "Gets-It." Immediately it dries and shrivels, the edges loosen from the true flesh and soon you can peel it right off with your fingers as painlessly as you trim your nails.
Don't coddle corns. Don't nurse and pamper them. Don't cut and trim them. REMOVE them with "GETS-IT." Gets a trial at any drug store. Mfd. by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago.
Sold in Lima by Hunter's Drug Stores.—Adv.

Golden Sun
Coffee

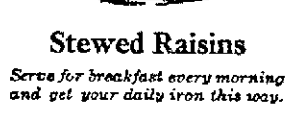

YOUR coffee-sense tells you to stop experimenting with different brands when you taste the Golden flavor of Golden Sun. Your common-sense tells you it is lucky you tried Golden Sun because it costs less—less than a cent a cup and more cups to the pound.

Let Children Vote

Offer them plain bread or raisin bread.
See which they select, and why

Some day, soon, do this:
Offer raisin bread and plain bread, side by side, to your boy or girl.
Note how the little hand at once selects the bread with raisins. The flavor first attracts them—they know the deliciousness of raisins.
Unconsciously they know too that these raisins are good for them.
Every normal child craves sweets naturally, and should have them. Here are Nature's own sweets, the kind they should have—practically pre-digested and rich in vital iron.
The iron builds up healthy blood—lasting vitality for play or study.
Children need but a small lot of iron daily, yet that need is vital.
Healthful foods sometimes must be forced on children. Not so raisin bread. They choose it for themselves. Just try and see.
Delicious raisin bread and raisin pie are sold by bake shops and groceries everywhere. Buy of them to save baking at home. Real Raisin Bread is made with lots of raisins. Insist on it. First-class bakers do not stint.

SUN-MAID RAISINS

Use Sun-Maid Raisins, made from California's finest table grapes—American raisins, processed and packed immaculately in a great modern California plant. Seeded (seeds removed); Seedless (grown without seeds); Clusters (on the stem). Also a fine, ever-ready dessert.
Raisins are cheaper by 30 per cent than formerly—see that you get plenty in your foods.
